

This Weekend in Residence

This week had a special outing to the St Joseph's Oratory for our final exchange students of the year, Sofia and Andrea. We braved the chilly weather to visit the pilgrimage site, learning more about the historical and ongoing significance of the Basilica.

This Weekend in Residence

Over the weekend, we headed to l'île de la Visitation and hiked through the natural park enjoying the warm and sunny day. We indulged in a refreshing treat at the local cafe, with delicious ice cream and beverages. Our journey continued as we made our way to Jean-Talon Market, one of the largest open-air public markets in Montreal. It was a weekend filled with sunshine, nature and unforgettable memories.
