

This Weekend in Residence

Over the weekend, our group headed to Le Taz, the largest indoor Skatepark in Canada. Some of us strapped on roller skates, gliding gracefully through the expansive space, while others opted for the thrill of BMX. Saturday evening, we treated ourselves to cheesecake at Rockaberry, a sweet end to the day. Sunday unfolded at a leisurely pace for some, while others immersed themselves in the timeless magic of "Into the Woods," a theatrical masterpiece brimming with relevance and iconic melodies. On Monday, we enjoyed the day off for Victoria's Day, soaking up the sun with a sushi lunch.
